The American Wagner Project (AWP) was established in 2013 as a partnership between WSWDC and Dolora Zajick's Institute for Young Dramatic Voices. The AWP is headed by acclaimed soprano Luana DeVol in collaboration with WSWDC's Maestro John Edward Niles. The AWP includes an intensive summer program at the University of Nevada-Reno to train young singers with the potential for careers singing Wagner. The AWP is the successor of the Emerging Singers Program, a partnership between WSWDC and the legendary Evelyn Lear and Thomas Stewart. AWP and ESP singers are now singing in opera houses all over the world.
